Domain Name

Domain name is a unique web address that people can use to access my website through their browser,

The name will be simple for the user to be able to remember it easily and it also reflect the purpose for my website which is a personal website, in this case I will choose my website to be felixo.com.

The domain will be registered annually for a fee

Security

For security I will get secure socket layer technology that encrypts connection between server and the user, to ensure users credentials are protected

Strong admin password will also be used
